

SUMMARY OF NOMINATION: BARRISTER COMMITTEE MEMBER

Advisory Committee candidate seeking reappointment to the Advisory Committee at the AGM on 3 December 2024

Mark Loveday of Tanfield Chambers of 2-5 Warwick Ct, London, WC1R 5DJ has been proposed by Edwin Coe and Beckett and Kay for appointment to the Advisory Committee as Barrister Committee Member.

Statement:

- You may listen to or argue with me when I speak at ALEP conferences.
- You may be with or against me in cases that matter to you – or spotted me recently in other RTM/enfranchisement cases in the FTT, Upper Tribunal or Court of Appeal.
- You may read my property column in the Times every Friday, or my case roundups for TPI.
- You have probably read some of the law books I edit or contribute to on service charges and management, Building Safety Act 2022, telecoms, etc.
- We may get tipsy together at the ERMAs – whether Tanfield or I win awards or not.
- Hopefully you won't have been before me in the FTT, where I sit as a judge.
- You may have had to sit through some of my talks, just to earn your CPD.
- You will almost certainly loathe my work for the government on the Leasehold & Freehold Reform Act 2024.
- You may even have seen me representing ALEP in the Supreme Court this year for free in A1 Properties v Tudor Studios.

But you won't have seen any other barrister member of the Advisory Council over recent years - counselling about the way forward for the industry, putting together events and scrutinising accounts. If re-elected, I would bring to the AC cutting edge knowledge of legal developments and experience of doing the job.
